National Sporting Organisation Partnerships

- NZ Rugby
- Basketball NZ
- NZ Football
- Badminton NZ
- Table Tennis NZ
- Hockey NZ
- Netball NZ
- NZ Ultimate
- Volleyball NZ

In addition to relationships with National Sporting Organisations, some key partnerships and collaboration in 2018 include:

New MoU with New Zealand Secondary School Sports Council

UTSNZ has signed a three-year agreement with School Sport NZ (formally New Zealand Secondary Schools Sports Council) which strives to enable and deliver opportunities which will retain school leavers in sport and create sustainable sporting pathways between secondary schools and tertiary institutions.

New MoU with Unisport Australia – key benefits:

- Shared knowledge and exchange of information
- Workforce development opportunities for staff and students
- Facilitation of university-to-university partnerships and exchanges
- Australia vs New Zealand trans-Tasman events

FISU Oceania-Asia collaboration

As the affiliate to FISU, New Zealand students and staff also stand to gain from the joint event focus of a renewed agreement between FISU Oceania and the Asian University Sports Federation. This new agreement intends to open-up potential pathways for FISU Oceania students to engage with Asian universities and have access to some of their events including the continental and AUSF Championship.

New memorandum recognises the importance of school-tertiary sport links

University and Tertiary Sport New Zealand (UTSNZ) are one step closer to establishing a sustainable sporting pathway between secondary schools and tertiary institutions. Historically, Kiwi high school students have not been short of sporting opportunities. And with the number of national secondary school competitions having increased by 60 percent in the past 10 years, 13-18 year-olds now compete in more than 200 national secondary school tournaments each year.

4. Chair's Report

University and Tertiary Sport NZ (UTSNZ) has made significant progress towards implementing our strategy and vision of New Zealand university and tertiary students realising their potential through sport. Our aspiration is to have more students representing their tertiary institution in competitive inter-tertiary events at a national and international level. With the input of our members, students, board, volunteers and partners we enjoy a consultative approach to deliver a relevant and significant service to the tertiary sector. This input alongside the collective support of New Zealand's eight university Vice Chancellor's, has seen UTSNZ make excellent gains in 2018. There has been a seventy-six percent increase in students participating in the national events since 2016, and sixty students travelled to eleven countries through FISU events or volunteering opportunities in 2018. Sport competition opportunities are being complemented by workforce development options which enhance student experience and graduate employability.

UTSNZ delivered ten National Tertiary Championships at five different locations around the country, and 2018 saw the inclusion of Ultimate Frisbee as a new sport. An improvement in student engagement has been gained through our greater understanding of student needs and expectations. Fifty-one percent of total participants in national events were female, fifty-two percent were first- or second-year students and seventy-five percent were satisfied with the national events. The complement of ten events engaged the full spectrum of stakeholders with seven of the country's universities attending at least eighty percent of the National Tertiary Championships. All eight member universities won at least one National Tertiary Championship title across the ten events. As in 2018, the University of Auckland won the overall University Champion Shield for their five National Tertiary Championship titles. The wider tertiary network were represented at the national events by Ara Institute of Canterbury and Manukau Institute of Technology entering full teams in the Futsal and Netball Championships respectively.

Progress was achieved in developing international performance pathways. UTSNZ facilitated the participation of fifty-four NZ tertiary students in eight FISU World University Championships, with all eight member Universities being represented. Considering the high calibre of these events NZ student athletes performed exceptionally winning three medals, two Gold (Rowing, Massey University and Orienteering, Wiener Neustadt University) and one Bronze (Rowing, Massey University). Ninety-six percent of student athletes rated their experience as extremely satisfying. University of Auckland (men) and Lincoln University (women) represented NZ at the World University 3x3 basketball league in China. The men's fourth placing an outstanding achievement on this highly competitive world stage. International NZ student representation (in Russia and Uganda) was also achieved through FISU's volunteer programmes. These unique experiences giving students exposure to top level international competition, an environment to learn and improve plus; an opportunity to gain a sense of pride in representing their respective universities. These worldwide connections are further enhanced by new agreements with Unisport Australia, FISU Oceania and the Asian University Sports Federation which open student development opportunities in both sport and education.

UTSNZ benefits enormously from its partnerships with national sport organisations in the delivery of the quality competitive sport structure. I would like to acknowledge the support of NZ Rugby, Basketball NZ, Netball NZ, Badminton NZ, Table Tennis NZ, Hockey NZ, Ultimate Frisbee NZ, Volleyball NZ and NZ Football for their collaboration and partnership.

In 2018, we were successful in securing investment from New Zealand Community Trust, we thank them for their contribution and their recognition of the need to invest in tertiary sport as a means of addressing the student transition from secondary to tertiary education. This commitment to assisting students to continue to play sport after secondary school has been highlighted by our new memorandum of understanding with School Sport NZ (previously NZ Secondary School Sports Council).

UTSNZ's work to raise awareness of tertiary sport and provide a vehicle for student voice was bolstered by the employment of a Marketing and Events Manager in 2018. This resulted in a concentrated effort to increase outputs from social media, develop strong media connections and collect valuable insights to inform the UTSNZ model. Progress was apparent through digital and social media engagement plus media interest from organisations such as the NZ Herald, Radio Sport, Māori Television and TVNZ.

The Board consists of eight members, two of whom are enrolled university or tertiary institute students. In May 2018, we welcomed chartered accountant Chris Atherton from Massey University as Treasurer. The Board comprises of a representative from six of the eight Universities and is fifty percent female. I acknowledge the Universities for the support of their respective board members. A milestone has been reached, it is three years since the inception of UTSNZ and the first term expiration for our inaugural elected board members. As a result, we have received resignations from Rainsforth Dix, Victoria University of Wellington, and student representative, Trent Summers, University of Canterbury alumni. It is relevant to reflect on UTSNZ's history, established in late 2015 the inaugural board members, equipped with a business case approved by the Vice-Chancellor's, were intrepid in volunteering for these roles and since then fully committed to fulfilling UTSNZ's goals. I thank Rainsforth and Trent for sharing their valuable insights and knowledge. It would also be remiss if I didn't recognise the contribution of Louis Ratray, who resigned from his role as Associate Director of Campus Life at the University of Auckland, he was a driving force and integral part of seeing the new tertiary sport entity UTSNZ established.

The Board held four ordinary meetings and, in order to receive feedback, UTSNZ held two member forums and the Student Athlete Commission met twice. Our Executive Director received special recognition of her work by being accepted into the Sport NZ Future Leader's Programme.

I would like to thank the sport managers of the member organisations for their commitment to UTSNZ, their strong management skills, their advocacy of tertiary sport and their focus on the wellbeing of students. Enabling students to play sport through UTSNZ contributes to student wellbeing through physical activity and social connections and makes the tertiary sporting environment unique and vibrant. I thank all the students that we serve, for competing, creating team connections, and realising the positive benefits of balancing academic study with sport. I express gratitude for the support that I personally have received from the Board, the Marketing and Events Manager and the Executive Director.

- 27 November

6. UTSNZ Student Athlete Commission

---

At the heart of UTSNZ are our tertiary student athletes, and increasingly in the world of sport the athlete's voice is being formally recognised in the governance structures of national sporting entities.

Made up of one representative from each of NZ's eight universities, the 2018 UTSNZ Student Athlete Commission representatives were:

The University of Auckland	Zachary Easthope
Auckland University of Technology	Claudia Raven
Massey University	Rose Fitzmaurice (Chair)
The University of Waikato	Kelcey Ballantyne
Victoria University of Wellington	Ellie McManaway
Lincoln University	Hannah Hill
University of Canterbury	Amelia Morgan
University of Otago	Mitchell Langton (Deputy Chair)

Key objectives of the commission (as per the formal Terms of Reference) were to:

- (i) Advise the UTSNZ board on matters pertaining to student sports participation and achievement
- (ii) Provide a vehicle for student voice and participation in the development of university and tertiary sport

Key projects in 2018 included;

- successful delivery of campus activation activities for International Day of University Sport
- provision of marketing insight
- input on advertising and promotion initiatives
- delivery of student generated content e.g. blogs

7. Profile and Promotion

With regards to profile and promotion, UTSNZ has been working hard to:

- (1) Increase student awareness of UTSNZ-facilitated events and opportunities.
- (2) Raise the profile of tertiary sport by communicating key messages to the right people at the right time.
- (3) Ensure the organisation provides a vehicle for student voice.

Key initiatives and outputs produced in 2018:

- Strategic case studies and profiles that touch on recruitment, international students, talent development, community impact, leadership, and global experience.
- A vehicle for student voice including Blogs, surveys, International Day of University Sport celebration, Student Athlete Commission.
- Increased awareness of World University Championship and League athletes and sports
- New media pick up: ANZ SportScene; NZ Herald Weekend Warrior; Education Central, Radio Sport, Māori Television, TVNZ.
- New relationships: Volunteering NZ, university communications staff, regional media
- Social media: Instagram, student takeovers, event promotion, Facebook (more content i.e. videos, photos, topical campaigns).
- Stakeholder communications: Regular and relevant e-newsletter established, news stories, sharing research.
- FISU PR: Livestream and leveraging global communication resources/platforms.

New opportunities:

- Volunteer and intern opportunities
- Student activations e.g., MAI FM, STA Travel
- Marketing to secondary schools
- Digital engagement
- Student association buy-in
- University research projects

Focus on growth across key digital platforms:

- Facebook (baseline 1800)
- Instagram (baseline 167)
- Live Stream (3 events for 2019)
- Website (on—going)

8. Treasurers Report

The work that UTSNZ has done this year has enabled 54 student athletes to participate in eight FISU World University Championships on the international stage, winning 3 medals, including 2 Gold medals and one Bronze (rowing and orienteering for Massey University). On the national stage we have achieved over 1,100 student athletes participating in National Tertiary Championships involved in 113 teams. This is a 25% increase on the 888 student athletes in 2017 and 76% increase on 2016.

Financially the overall surplus for the year increased to $21,898 from $4,875 last year, a three-fold increase. The budgeted surplus for the year was $4,203 based on the 2017 actual result, however careful financial stewardship of UTSNZ resources by Sarah Anderson, the Executive Director, resulted in a greater than predicted surplus. Income from membership levies remained relatively constant between 2017 and 2018 complimented with slightly increased revenue from events due to increased participation numbers and reduced costs.

In addition, UTSNZ secured a $30k Grant from the New Zealand Community Trust (NZCT). Savings acquired through audit and accounting fees, general and administration expenses, governance and the localisation of Student Athlete Commission activities also contributed to the overall surplus.

We employed Anna Wallace, Marketing and Events Manager, in the year, an expense that was not present in 2017 and was unbudgeted in 2018. Anna left us in December and has been replaced by Nick Harbidge who continues to help us meet our strategic objectives. As predicted by my predecessor Rainsforth Dix last year, the improved bottom line has improved our cash position which enables us to be more resilient financially, especially as margins are very tight within the sector. Liquid assets – bank accounts and cash – have improved by $42,341, 69%. UTSNZ has no loans or other borrowings other than what's owed on the business credit card and trade payables making for a secure financial position.

This stable financial position is an enabler that allows UTSNZ to continue to employ an additional staff member and allow the team to continue the investment in the strategic initiatives.

Treasurer

Partner Acknowledgements

In 2018 UTSNZ worked closely with several national and regional sporting organisations to deliver the national tertiary championship programme involving nine sports; basketball, futsal, rugby sevens, badminton, table tennis, volleyball, ultimate, netball and hockey. Each sport primarily through its NSO, was a partner in planning and running the event within the framework of the overall UTSNZ tertiary competition. UTSNZ would like to formally thank and acknowledge the following; NZ Rugby and Waikato Rugby Union, Basketball NZ, Harbour and Canterbury Basketball Associations, NZ Football, Badminton NZ, Table Tennis NZ, Volleyball NZ, NZ Ultimate and Massey University Ultimate Club, Netball NZ and North Harbour Netball, Hockey NZ and Auckland Hockey Association.

Thank you also to all team managers, coaches, volunteers, referees and officials and personnel within NZ university and tertiary institutions for your passion and commitment which enabled NZ tertiary students to represent their tertiary institution in competitive sport at a national, and for some international, level.
